A World of Thanks

Everyone follows a path in life, one that is generally easier to make sense of looking backward than looking forward. As I look back on my first year at Prep, I see clearly that gratitude for each of you and what you have done for our students is what illuminates my own way forward. Indeed, during this past fiscal year, your support has helped to shape the lives of over 930 young men who each count Prep as an integral pathway on their journey to becoming "men for others."

My role, as Prep's Chief Advancement Officer, is to lead a team of professionals who are as passionate about enabling our staff, students, and administration to fulfill the school's mission, as you are. In addition, we try to show gratitude at every opportunity for you, our supporters! That might be most obvious within the President's Report section of this issue, but it doesn't end there. Underlying our gratitude for the many accomplishments of our students, the many initiatives that enrich their experience, and the many gifts of our devoted faculty and staff, is our gratitude for the many hands that help to make it all possible.

Beyond the lofty rhetoric are these facts: from July 1, 2017 – June 30, 2018, your gifts to Prep's Annual Fund and events totaled almost $2.8 million, and more importantly, helped our students who could not otherwise afford a Prep education. Your gifts to our endowed scholarship fund and the just-completed Imagine Campaign, an eye-popping $3.7 million in FY18 alone and $56.6 million since the inception of Imagine in 2006, enabled critical improvements throughout Prep's physical plant and dramatic growth in our capacity to offer scholarship support to our students. Most recently, this has included the transformation of Mulry Hall into a 21st-century hub for student services and academic administration.

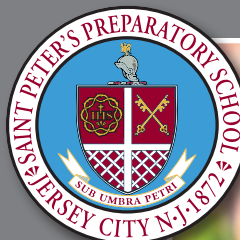

All in all, your gifts have helped us to markedly improve Prep's campus. We are grateful. Your gifts to named and restricted funds have given others the gift of Prep. We (and they!) are grateful. Your honorary and memorial gifts have helped us and others to remember loved ones. We are grateful.

As the school year (and yes, the fiscal year) begins anew, I personally give thanks for the warm and welcoming community I have found here at Grand & Warren. Recently, as we celebrated the tireless dedication of Fr. Tony Azzarto, S.J. to our school's mission, I saw in no uncertain terms the difference that we are able to make when we work together to make Saint Peter's Prep the very best it can be. I am proud my path has led me to be part of a team that lives that commitment here on campus, and I am proud to partner with all of you in the broader Prep community to ensure we can continue this good work for many years to come.

Stephen F. Izzo
Vice President and Chief Advancement Officer

P.S.: Along with the new year, Advancement's efforts to secure your support for our students begin anew as well...so please don't be surprised if we seek your assistance again. And as we send (and you receive) those appeals, always know that we and the 900+ boys who count Prep as their second home are now and forever grateful!

STAY UP-TO-DATE

ON THE COVER: Prep's gratitude was on full display twice in the span of just three days this September. As Fr. Boller cut the ribbon to rededicate Mulry Hall, Prep gave thanks for the incredible generosity that made the 12-year Imagine Campaign a success. And as the community celebrated Fr. Tony Azzarto, S.J. at his 80th birthday Mass and picnic, Prep gave thanks once more for his unparalleled legacy of service.

Declan Alvidrez, '18
addressed his classmates

A Blank Canvas Awaits the Class of '18

"Prep has given us the brushes to paint the masterpiece that is our lives," Declan Alvidrez, '18 told his classmates during Prep's 140th Commencement. "So pick up your brush."

Equipped with the lessons learned, the friendships forged, and the perspective gained over four years at Grand & Warren, the 233 newest Prep alumni now move forward to make their mark in the world beyond. As Declan noted, the journey thus far has been highlighted by "state championships, academic awards, inspiring performances, and devotion to service," but the everyday experiences have been no less important. And above all, "we have been through it all together. We have laughed and cried together, felt the pain of defeat and the elation of victory together."

As they set about painting those future masterpieces – figurative and literal alike – the Class of '18 will no doubt find themselves questioning whether they're on the right track. No one understands this better than Megan Klim, P'16 chair of Prep's fine and performing arts department, who delivered the faculty address. She recalled a conversation with a particularly persistent student who was eager to know whether his work was "good," and the difficulty of providing him with a straightforward answer, without knowing his own criteria for success.

There are no easy answers to those questions, Ms. Klim explained. "You write the story; asking someone's opinion can be valuable, but be careful you aren't simply asking only for the answer...only you can ultimately define what is good to you. You make your choices, you decide how much effort you will put into something – whether it's solving a complex math problem, fixing a car, writing a story or running a race."

Using what they've learned as a framework, it will fall to the graduates to define success for themselves. "It's ultimately your decision, in any discipline and task you take on," she said.

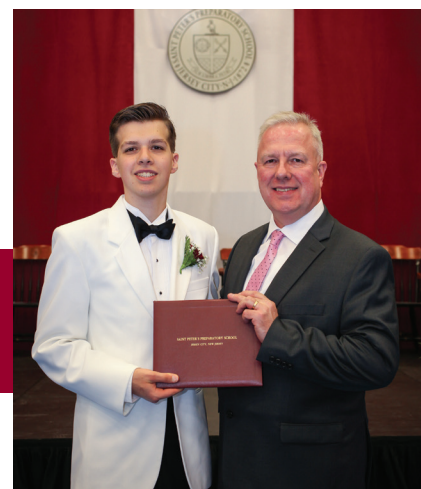

While success is often in the eye of the beholder, some measures are more objective. In addition to the diplomas that reflect a successful four-year journey through Prep, a number of other awards were presented during the ceremony. A full listing of student awards is available here.

Two members of Prep's faculty and staff also received special awards during the ceremony. Cecelia Collins, who has served in numerous roles around campus since her arrival at Prep in 1998 – but who is best known as the friendly face of the attendance office – received the Bene Merenti award for her 20 years of service. Near the end of the ceremony, before he gave the closing prayer, Tony Azzarto, S.J. was presented with the Insignis Award. Presented only periodically, this award "was established to recognize the type of person that Saint Ignatius Loyola would have wanted to draw to the Society of Jesus, a person who was magnanimous, generous, influential, an outstanding leader, and one who would recognize the good and do it." For all Fr. Azzarto has done since 1963 for Prep and the larger Prep community, in various capacities spread across three different tenures at Grand & Warren, it would be virtually impossible to think of a more deserving recipient.✕

Patrick Thoms-Bauer, '18 was one of just three graduates to attain perfect attendance. A record-keeping error kept Patrick from being recognized during the ceremony, so we take this opportunity to congratulate him now. He's pictured with his father, John Bauer, '77.

Prep math teachers Jim Hollywood, '66 and Sue Dillane, P'16, '18 led a column of the faculty procession. Ms. Dillane would present her son, Matthew, with his diploma.

A Bumper Crop of Prep Legacies

MakeSPP Makes Waves

Early in 2018, a team of eight Prep students – Samay Shamdasani, Nathan Blumenfeld, Shashwat Punjani, Owen Kealey, Thomas Narramore, Dan Ambrosio, Jonas Eaton, and Tyler Greene – proposed a new kind of Prep event: a student-organized, student-driven hackathon and conference, seeking to form “a diverse and creative community to unleash the true potential of technology.” By May, their event, MakeSPP, was a reality, bringing together more than 100 students from Prep as well as other area schools, along with more than 20 mentors from a variety of professional fields.

The event offered students a number of challenges to put their creativity, problem-solving, and programming skills to the test. One area of competition saw students use data from the State Department’s United States Diplomacy Center in efforts ranging from creative analysis to Virtual Reality projects, and it’s fair to say those efforts made an impression: the State Department’s official blog, DipNote, featured MakeSPP on its front page in July! ✕

A Civil Rights Pilgrimage

This summer, Prep’s principal, Jim DeAngelo, '85 joined a former Prep colleague – Sue Baber, now director of campus ministry at Manhattan’s Loyola School – as well as Loyola principal Adam Lewis on a four-day pilgrimage spanning historical sites in five cities. “I was immediately intrigued,” upon being invited on the trip, DeAngelo recalled, “especially since I had never associated ‘pilgrimage’ and ‘civil rights’ with each other in any formal way... My only knowledge of both was intellectual, mediated through books and journalism and not first-hand experience.”

The tour began at Spring Hill College. The Jesuit institution in Mobile, Alabama is the state’s oldest college, and, in 1954, its first to desegregate. Spring Hill’s move toward equality, driven by then-president Andrew Smith, S.J. and sociology professor Albert Foley, S.J., drew the ire of the Ku Klux Klan, which attempted a cross-burning in front of the men’s dormitory in 1957, but was thwarted by a band of students who chased the Klansmen from their campus. The school’s leadership later earned the praise of Martin Luther King in his “Letter from a Birmingham Jail.”

The next day, the pilgrims joined the path of the Selma to Montgomery March, visiting the infamous Pettus Bridge, site of the brutal Bloody Sunday assault on the marchers. Subsequent stops included the 16th Street Baptist Church in Birmingham, bombed in 1963 by the KKK in retaliation for the congregation’s actions against segregation; the new National Memorial for Peace and Justice, also in Birmingham, with its monument to thousands of lynching victims throughout United States history; and several sites in Atlanta associated with the legacy of Martin Luther King, including the Ebenezer Baptist Church where he preached.

“I was reminded, first, of how much I still don’t know about the dedication and sacrifice of those who put their lives on the line for equality and justice, and, second, how much still remains undone in our country today,” DeAngelo reflected.

The trio of pilgrims will share their experience with the USA Northeast Province of the Society of Jesus, which plans to convene a working group in order to create and facilitate a similar pilgrimage experience, to be offered to interested students or faculty members throughout the province in the future. ✕

On Campus and Online, Upgrades Abound

Summer is a time of renewal for any school, and that was certainly the case at Prep in 2018. This summer saw extensive renovation work completely transform the interior of Mulry Hall, the last project in a 12-year cycle of campus modernization made possible through the support of donors to the Imagine Campaign. But in addition, several lower profile summer projects during the have improved daily life at Grand & Warren as well.

If you've visited Prep's website (spprep.org) since August, you've no doubt noticed one of these upgrades, as the new site's visual presentation is a radical departure from past years. But dig deeper and you'll find this is actually Prep's first all-new website in nearly a decade, built from the ground up for better performance, richer content, and improved security. "Aside from some text here and there, the only thing we really carried over from the old site was the basic idea of building it around a commercially-available content management system, rather than leasing a proprietary platform as many schools do," explained Mike Jiran, '03, Prep's director of communications, who took the lead in building the new site. "The goal is to leverage the development that's already happening on the platform to be able to adapt the site to our changing needs easily and cost-effectively. A decade ago, that was happening in Drupal, so that's what we used. But now the energy has shifted to WordPress, and so have we." Prep joins an estimated 30% of websites worldwide powered by WordPress, from personal blogs to major media and corporate sites. The launch coincided with the introduction of Prep's new virtual tour – a great way for prospective students (and alumni, too!) to explore the school.

Elsewhere on the technology front, Prep's educational technology staff – Dave Bailey, '95, Jan Butrym, '01, and Mike Kelly – installed new servers, rewired the school's fiber optic network for a tenfold increase in bandwidth, replaced the wireless access points throughout campus, and introduced a new campus phone system. This work culminated with an overnight move of the network core from Shalloe Hall to its new home in Mulry in August – a process Bailey described as "like performing brain surgery on the network infrastructure."

Across Warren Street, meanwhile, Prep's venerable Memorial Gymnasium has a fresh new look, thanks to new padding for the walls, new backboards, a new set of championship banners to document Marauder triumphs past, a freshly refinished floor, and vastly brighter lighting to help visitors see it all.

Last, but certainly not least, a tangible part of the Class of 2018's legacy was installed along Grand Street. The Senior Class Gift funded the creation of an outdoor study area alongside the small garden between Shalloe Hall and O'Keefe Commons. With an outstanding participation rate of 41%, Prep's newest alumni can be proud of this gift to Prep and to the classes who will follow them. ✂

Prep Senior Named National Merit Semifinalist

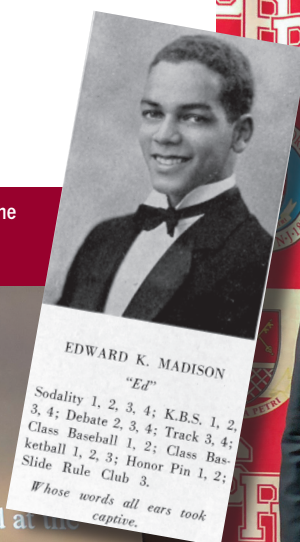

Richard Torres, '19 was among the approximately 16,000 students nationwide who were announced this September as semifinalists in the 2019 National Merit Scholarship program. Semifinalists represent the top scorers in each state, among more than 1.6 million students who took the PSAT/NMSQT in the fall of 2017 during their junior year, and less than 1% of high school seniors in the U.S. attain semifinalist standing in the competition.

Richard, along with his fellow semifinalists, will be invited to continue in the competition by completing a detailed application process that evaluates candidates' academic performance, participation in school and community activities, demonstrated leadership abilities, employment, and other honors and awards received. Based on those criteria, along with application essays and recommendations from school officials, the pool will be further narrowed to Finalists and then Scholars, with those announcements to come in the spring of 2019. ✂

Ebony Club Honors the Past, Looks to the Future

During the Ebony Club's yearly trip to Washington D.C., last spring, 36 Prep students had the opportunity to meet up with Onyx, Gonzaga High School's historically black student union. While walking the halls of the school, the students came across a full window display of Gabe Smith, Gonzaga Class of 1954, and the school's first African American graduate. The students were floored! Not only was the school honoring its first African American graduate, but nearby, the history department had added to the display information about Gonzaga's historical participation in American slavery. A fire was lit in the hearts and minds of these thirty-six young men. They wanted to know who was the first African American to graduate from Saint Peter's Prep, what his experience was like at Grand & Warren, and how could they go about honoring him.

On May 16, they had their moment. After a month of planning and research, these same thirty-six students hosted a dinner to honor Dr. Edward Madison, '44. Now ninety-one years old, Dr. Madison was accompanied by his daughter, Stephanie, and son, George, and welcomed into O'Keefe Commons by active Ebony Club members and their families. Also attending were twenty-five African American Prep Alumni ranging from the classes of 1988 to 2016 and fourteen incoming freshman students of color – the new recruits to the Ebony Club – joined by their parents, as well as members of Prep's faculty and staff.

The room was energized and vibrant. For the first time in Prep's rich history, the school was acknowledging Dr. Madison's service to the Jersey City community as well as his setting the foundation for all the students who now walk the halls of Grand and Warren.

As the son of Dr. Lena Edwards and Dr. Louis Keith Madison, Edward Madison was raised a devout Catholic. His understanding and appreciation for vocation ran deep. Immediately after his service in the US Navy Submarine Corps, Dr. Madison enrolled at Seton Hall University and then Howard University Medical School to pursue his passion for medicine. Raising eight children on Bentley Avenue with his wife Suzanne Wilson, Dr. Madison served the Jersey City community as a pediatrician to over 8,000 Jersey City youth during his forty-year career. While Alzheimer's has now limited Dr. Madison's ability to speak in public spaces, his son, George, articulated his appreciation to the school for honoring his father's service. In a letter sent to Ebony Club moderator Bhima Gaddy, '01 at the start of the school year, his daughter, Stephanie, explained how returning to Prep lifted his spirit, and that now he constantly asks about the students at Prep.

Inspired by Dr. Madison's life achievements, the Ebony Club has now launched Initiative 3.5, in which all participating club members are challenged to maintain a 3.5 GPA. They have launched a Big Brother initiative where fourteen of the current seniors are mentoring fourteen newly enrolled freshmen and Ebony Club members. For the first time, the Ebony Club will be featuring their own designs in this year's Prep Fashion Show. Three of the club's members, Damani Falconer, '19, Chase Jones, '19, and Maasai Maynor, '19, are this year's football captains as well as mentors to our freshmen. Most importantly, this year the Ebony Club is attempting to raise funds, through the sale of their own tee-shirts, hoodies and jackets to defray the costs of a new school-sponsored visit to Morehouse College and Clark Atlanta University. The club is also hosting two school dances this year; one will be held in the fall and the other in the spring.

If you would like to help support the Ebony Club in its ongoing mission (45 years and counting!) to raise cultural awareness, please contact Bhima Gaddy, '01 or Jim Dondero, '66, P'00 who moderate the club. ✕

Tapon, outside Cusco, Peru, is an area of terraces irrigated by a network of water channels that the Incas developed to feed water from a natural mountain spring to their land.

Prep's Global Reach Knows No Season

Prep's connections to a global community greatly enhanced the 2017-18 school year. The year was filled with great moments throughout the school year, Prep hosted students and teachers from Barcelona, Toulouse, Lima, and Sicily. The summer of 2018 continued in this vein with enrichment courses that brought Prep students to Taiwan, Peru, and Costa Rica.

In June, ten Prep students along with fine and performing arts department chair Megan Klim and religion teacher Tracy Kessler, traveled to Peru in search of story. The theme for the summer course was "The Object as Story." The goal was to learn about others and a culture different than our own through their art and creative works. Taking on the persona of "hunters and gatherers," the students spent time with their host families, inviting them to share stories behind beloved artifacts in their homes. One example was a Holy Family statue which told the story of the strong faith the family shared. The group traveled to several museums, where guides shared the story of the Lima People through the pottery, textiles and jewelry on display. The journey concluded with a trip to Machu Picchu where we were able to stand on holy ground and witness the art and architecture of the Inca People and their relationship with the earth. Prep's students and teachers alike learned that, even across the many miles from New Jersey to Peru, personal stories our stories had a lot in common, and that a great way to gain a deeper perspective starts with a simple invitation: "Tell me more about this beautiful object..."

In July, Patrick McGovern, '99 of the modern language department and Russell Fiorella of the religion department accompanied fifteen enthusiastic Prep students to Taipei, Taiwan. The students were introduced to the beliefs and practices of Buddhism, Confucianism, and Taoism, and explored how those traditions have been celebrated in art and architecture. Over the course of nine days the group dined on an array of local dishes, attended guest lectures, and visited numerous shrines, temples, cultural museums, national parks, night markets, tea terraces, gardens, and most notably the National Palace, which houses the largest collection of traditional Chinese art in the world. Reflecting on his time in Asia, Senior Danny Cao said, "As I partook in this spectacular adventure in Taiwan, I was shown how the different religions, various cultures, and numerous art pieces have impacted each other in both the past and the present." This summer's trip to Taiwan marked Prep's first cultural immersion experience in Asia.

For the Adventure Club, English teachers Greg Morrissey, '08 and Bhima Gaddy, '01 led twenty-two students to the Guanacaste region of Costa Rica for ten days in June. The group learned to surf, exploring the beautiful beaches and enjoying the flora and fauna by waking up to the sound of howler monkeys every day. 🌿

The Luckiest

by Mike Jiran, '03

Last spring, the Jesuits' USA Northeast Province informed Prep that, in deference to his age and his health, Tony Azzarto, S.J. would be reassigned to the Jesuit retirement center at Murray-Weigel Hall on the Fordham University campus. In the months that followed, Fr. Azzarto – perhaps inspired by his impending move to the Bronx – took to quoting Lou Gehrig, dubbing himself “the luckiest man on the face of the earth” as he reflected on the many gifts of the 41 years he has spent at Grand & Warren, in four separate stretches, dating back to 1963.

Never one to relish the spotlight, Fr. Azzarto shied away from offers of a formal farewell, in favor of an 80th birthday Mass and barbecue at Prep in September. And although he repeated his “luckiest man” claim during Mass, it goes almost without saying that the Prep community as a whole is luckier still, having been blessed with his warmth and wisdom through the decades, and invited to share in an unforgettable celebration of his legacy. Roughly 1,000 guests did just that, enjoying a balmy evening on Warren Street in his honor.

It had been Prep's good fortune when a young scholastic arrived to teach English and Latin, quickly becoming a favorite among students, who nicknamed the then-Mr. Azzarto, S.J. “Zippy.” And it was again Prep's good fortune when he returned in 1972, following his ordination and a stint as retreat master in Monroe, New York. Over the next 46 years – aside from two assignments to Nigeria from 1980-85 and 2005-07 – he would be woven into the fabric of daily life at Grand & Warren Officially, Fr. Azzarto has served as guidance counselor, teacher, chaplain, retreat director, and alumni chaplain. Reflecting his desire to make Prep a welcoming place for each student, he also moderated a dizzying array of student clubs, large and small, over the years. In practice, he has also served as the go-to celebrant for weddings, baptisms, and funerals among Prep alumni and their families; a friendly ear to those in turmoil; a stalwart supporter of Prep athletics; hot dog chef extraordinaire; chronicler of Prep life through his omnipresent camera and his impromptu photo galleries around campus; signatory to untold thousands of birthday cards for friends and colleagues; and purveyor of peanut butter sandwiches to students in need of a simple lunch – just to scratch the surface of the many hats he has worn.

And there, too, is another stroke of luck for Prep: Fr. Azzarto plans to continue much of his ministry to the Prep community, as part of a busy routine that includes service to his new neighbors in the Bronx, and ongoing works such as writing letters to death row inmates each day. Quick-witted as ever, he noted two additional “projects”: using his newfound proximity to Yankee Stadium to “take the evil empire down from the inside” on behalf of his fellow Dodger fans, and pursuing a master's degree in handwriting at Fordham.

Generations of Prep men will recall Fr. Azzarto's fondness for the maxim, often attributed to Woody Allen, “Eighty percent of life is showing up.” It's a reminder to participate actively, to be truly present to others, and to be open to all our lives bring us. And it's a philosophy Fr. Azzarto has modeled with distinction for many years, modeling the Ignatian call to find God in all things. He might not always admit it, but his quiet devotion to everyday service echoes another of his favorite quotes – this one from the Jesuit poet Gerard Manley Hopkins, S.J.: “Christ plays in ten thousand places/Lovely in limbs, and lovely in eyes not his/To the Father through the features of men's faces.”

Given the breadth and depth of Fr. Azzarto's influence in the life of Saint Peter's Prep, no single attempt at a tribute could do him justice. And so the following pages contain some of your stories and memories (more are at spprep.org/prepmag). It's only appropriate to make this a community effort; as Fr. Azzarto himself concluded his homily during the birthday Mass, “It takes all of us to continue to make Saint Peter's the presence of God. It takes all of us to continue to be our Pride and Glory.”✕

What better place to start than the beginning: It was September 1972 when Fr. Azzarto returned to Prep. One of his first classes was our Junior English class, an assignment that also included overseeing the infamous English block period with Vince Kennedy, when every Junior gathered together in the cafeteria for a double period of English. Needless to say, chaos frequently broke out. Without fail, the newly-minted Fr. Azzarto, in his green tweed sportcoat, would stand in front of the masses, exacting calm in the process and allowing the learning to continue.

Another favorite (and there have been many these past 46 years) took place the following year (1973-74) when Fr. Azzarto got stuck moderating the Executive Committee Council when once again, his calm demeanor shone through, as he allowed us to be somewhat crazy while still making sure we delivered on our commitment to the student body!

— Peter Colford, '74

I never had the honor to have Fr. Azzarto as a teacher. I would get to Prep over an hour before school started. I would sleep or study outside Fr. Azzarto's and Sr. Frances' offices in Mulry, on the comfy chair until closer to start time. He always took the time to say hello and chat. Even little acts of kindness can make a big impact. Thank you!

—William Bricki, '04

In addition to being my instructor in Junior year, Fr. Azzarto performed our wedding ceremony in 1971 and baptized our firstborn in 1977. In the years since then, we have exchanged Christmas cards every holiday season and he hasn't missed a single one — always enclosing a prayer card and a blessing. Thank you, Tony.

— Michael Anthony, '67

Fr. Tony Azzarto is there when you need him. Straightforward. Grounded in reality and Ignatian spirituality. Welcoming, supportive and loving. A man for all seasons and a man for others, always filled with pleasant surprises.

"Taz" was the steadiest, most comforting influence in my life during my time at Prep. Just the knowledge that he was there — in his cluttered, cozy, inviting office — provided constant security to me and those of us whose home life wasn't such. He shaped lives, and even changed a few — mine most certainly.

— Shannon Mariniello, '90

My favorite memory of Tony is at one of our Ignatian Evenings when I first arrived at Prep. The Jesuits at Prep were talking to the new faculty members about their favorite Jesuit saints. He and Fr. Rico Raulli both knew Fr. Dan Berrigan (who was still alive at the time), but had very different opinions of Fr. Berrigan's "saintliness." It was fascinating to hear each of them give their opinions!

— Boreta Singleton,
Director of Faculty Formation

A favorite Fr. Azzarto image: Anytime Tony is listening to a student — giving such complete, congenial, and present attention to what each and every young man wants to say!

— Anthony Keating, '78, P'10, faculty member

Fr. Azzarto married Sarah and me, baptized my two children, Peter and Tessa, and buried my father. He introduced me to the Emmaus story, and that has been the Gospel story at all of these services. That story is the core of my faith.

— Michael Gomez, '91,
trustee and former faculty member; principal of Cristo Rey Philadelphia

I have no specific story, but my favorite times with Father were during his many heartfelt talks about our lives, helping others, being men for others, and living a life full of love and compassion. Father was constantly spreading love and positivity. Senior year won't be the same without his smile and excitement as you walk past him in the hallways.

— Eddie Baumgartner, '19

RIGHT: At his birthday Mass, Fr. Azzarto joked he would make his fellow Dodger fans proud by bringing the Yankees down from within the Bronx — starting by "borrowing" this bat from Aaron Judge.

COVER STORY

Every time we would see Fr. Azzarto at an event he would snap our picture. Like clockwork, a week later, we would have that picture arrive in the mail with a nice note from him. Our favorite one was at our wedding, taken from the altar!

— T.J. Sullivan, '93

I first met Fr. Azzarto in the summer of 1968, when as a seminarian he and Ed. McGlinchy, S.J. mentored eight Saint Peter's College students as we volunteered in Martin County, Kentucky. Living, working, and praying together in Appalachia was a life changing experience for all of us and we have remained friends all these years. Fr. Azzarto was a tremendous example to all of us. I'm grateful to have attended his ordination to the priesthood and to have been inspired by his words and actions ever since.

— Kathleen Diffley, P'02

When Fr. Azzarto presided at my cousin's baptism, he played a clip from The Lion King. We giggled as he hit play and we watched. He tied the scene in with the sacrament of baptism and it somehow all worked perfectly. He has just has an amazing way about him.

— Erich Sekel, '98,
former faculty member

Fr. Azzarto had a great office on the Grand & Warren corner of the main building. It was like a little sanctuary in which to escape during a long day of classes. Filled to the brim with paperwork, class material, pictures and treasures from his long decades serving the young men of Prep, his office was a refuge to sit down, take the weight of the day off of your shoulders and, for me at least, get out a favorite book and read. I will never forget walking into Fr. Azzarto's office (which was always open of course) seeing the couch empty, plopping down onto it and taking out my book to simply read in peace and quiet. Few experiences throughout my 37 years can compare to the comfort and compassion I felt in that office...

— Salvatore Candela, '99

Any individual story seems inadequate considering who he is. But I'll try. On my day visiting campus as a prospective faculty member, Fr. Azzarto came over and said hello at lunch – and remembered my name. This despite the fact that I had graduated nearly 8 years prior. It made me feel at ease even though I was really nervous. He's just an amazing person.

— James Coviello, '99,
former faculty member

Fr. Azzarto has been present during all important and joyous moments of my adult life – from celebrating my wedding, to baptizing my son, to blessing my new home. He was also there for me and the Prep community during the sad times. The story I share is when BJ Giannone, '11 passed away and I needed to face his Italian class and his empty desk, which was very difficult for me after three years with them. I asked Fr. Azzarto if he could be there in the classroom with me and the students during that first class after his passing. He came, didn't say much, just sat in the back and listened to us as we shared stories and cried. He is always a great rock for all of us. Thank you!

— Rosalie Romano,
Modern Language
department chair

Fr. A stepped up for our family when we had a serious family situation and was so caring and compassionate as he helped our family through an extremely trying time.

— Tony Cardino,
P'88, '92, '00

In addition to always making that every student, regardless of background, felt like part of the Prep family, Fr. Azzarto is also there as a counselor for alumni. I personally reached out to him during a difficult time in my life, and found comfort in his words and advice, despite not finding any in the advice of many others to whom I had spoken. He always addresses everyone with empathy and without condescension. That truly makes him the perfect example of a man of God.

— Amir Bishara, '02

Every time I would see Fr. Azzarto, he would always tell me to hit a home run. Last spring I was actually able to accomplish that for him. I felt like he was my good luck charm!

— Aidan Nolte, '19

Fr. Azzarto "walks the walk." He is and always will be Prep, a true "Man for Others." [...] When Dan Cooney passed away, he stood at the wake for hours and hours consoling each and every young man and woman with words of comfort, hope, and faith. Mourners who did not know him... were asking, "Who is this wonderful person?" Prep parents answered: He is the man, the man for others. God Bless you, Fr. Azzarto, always and forever.

— Mary and Larry Bovich, P'09, '11, '15

My son, Dylan, graduated in 2001, only a few months before the World Trade Center bombing. The following September 11, Fr. Azzarto organized a memorial at Prep. I was asked to speak from the perspective of a firefighter. Also speaking were students of various faiths including, importantly, Islam. The soundtrack to the event was Bruce Springsteen's "The Rising," which was also referred to in the homily. Typical of Fr. Azzarto, the event was inclusive with an emphasis on listening. In order to truly heal, one needed to understand the impact that horrific day had on the diverse Prep community and beyond. As I listened to the students speak, I knew that despite the temptations of further divisiveness the healing had begun. Fr. Azzarto's example had once again demonstrated what it means to be a "Man for Others."

— Brian McGorty, P'01

There are so many amazing memories. Whether it was him beating us in stickball in the courtyard or him baptizing both of my children and performing my wedding ceremony; he's been a moral compass and inspiration for so many people. He is THE Man for Others.

— Robert Valente, '92

As a younger Jesuit, I heard about Tony's Father-Son Retreats and asked him to teach me about them. He invited me along on one at Saint Peter's and it was a great help. I was able to offer something similar at Fairfield Prep and BC High, through the Fathers' Clubs. The fathers and sons got so much out of it. Thanks, Tony!

— Jim Hederman, S.J.
Xavier faculty member

My family is very fortunate to have known Father A for a very long time. He married my parents, and my brothers and our wives! I have never heard anyone say a bad thing about Father A. He has impacted so many lives not only at Prep but all over the world.

— Nick Urbanovich, '00

["What's your favorite Fr. Azzarto memory?"] is not a fair question. Fr. Azzarto is Prep. He attended and supported everybody for everything! Whether it was a game or a play, he would be in the corner with his camera taking pictures. He always greeted my mother like family when he saw her. He is the personification of being a "Man for Others." I wholeheartedly expect there to be a life size bronze statue of this man in the very near future!

— Dorian Timmons, '98 (P'33)

I can remember when Fr. Azzarto used to ask at the end of the marking period what grade we thought we deserved in the class. Little did I know that he was at the forefront of education by asking students to assess their own work ethic and ability. He always made me look inside myself to find my worth, and I will never forget that.

— Chris Caulfield, '03,
English department chair

I worked on the '92 Petrean. One morning, Dave Jackman, who wrote nearly all of the text for the book, had given me an extensive, handwritten writeup for one of the student groups...I gave it to one of my buddies in the cafeteria to look at. The day began and I realized my buddy must have left it on the table, and I forgot to take it back from him. When I went back to look for it, it was gone... Fr. Azzarto asked what happened and I told him. "Come with me," he said. I followed him out to the back of the school and he proceeded to climb into the dumpster to look for the piece of paper. He began tearing open the trash bags one by one, and by the hand of God, we found it...After all of these years, this is my prototypical Fr. Azzarto story. He was so interested in and invested in whatever you were interested in or invested in. He would take on your burdens and do whatever he could to help, always going the extra mile, always being selfless, always showing how to apply the love of Christ in everyday life... I frequently think about his extraordinary example, and I try my best to use what he taught me every day.

— Joe Coyle, '92

While my son was attending Prep, my family fell on very hard times and Fr. Azzarto not only came to my house to check on my son but continued to check on him every day at school and sent me letters. He will always hold a huge piece of our hearts.

— Rose Corea, P'14

Fr. Azzarto has always been very supportive and helpful to me and my family. When I was a student and an alumnus, he was always there in times of emotional struggle and times of great joy. Fr. Azzarto was often seen at our cross country meets, funerals and has always supported my passion for the arts and theatre. Most importantly, he was a friend and a teacher for all of his students. Happy Birthday Fr. Azzarto!

— James DeVoursney, '12

Fr. Azzarto is one of the most amazing human beings I have ever had the honor of meeting.

— Jeff Watkins, '05

For me, it's all the little things Fr. Azzarto has always done even for the decades since I've graduated...He also never forgets the names and connections of alumni to Prep. I remember attending mass for my 20th reunion and Fr. Azzarto must've seen me come in. Sure enough when communion came around, he didn't just ask for Eucharistic ministers. He called us out and he said, "Where is Bill Price?" I hadn't been a minister since college, but you could never say no to Tony and I figured my "license" still counted when I was back at Prep.

His humor and welcoming spirit are his lasting legacy for other Prepsters to emulate.

— Bill Price, '87

When I started my Prep education, I was a lost little freshman from Belleville trying to navigate a new school in a big city. I didn't know anyone, except for one grammar school classmate, and I felt overwhelmed. Fr. Azzarto was my religion teacher and made me feel at home and at ease. He talked to me during my first week at Prep, and I immediately sensed his compassion and concern. When I told him I was a musician, he escorted me directly to music ministry choir practice, where I met Sr. Frances Marie Duncan and new Prep friends. Fr. Azzarto also taught my brother, Robert, '01. When Rob was in the hospital with lymphoma, Fr. Azzarto visited him. Even after Rob was discharged, Fr. Azzarto came to our home. When Rob passed away two years ago, Fr. Azzarto comforted our family, spoke at Rob's wake, and con-celebrated/delivered the homily at the funeral mass. My family will forever be grateful for his presence, love, prayers, humility, and generosity. His life, ministry, and humanity are gifts to all the lives he has influenced for the "Greater Glory of God."

— Michael Sunga, '98

He represents the spirit of Saint Peter's Prep. He will never be replaced. Every man and woman should strive to emulate his beliefs and actions.

— Ralph Avallone, P'06, '09

Vox and Band parents would run a 50/50 raffle at our annual Christmas and Spring Concerts. One time, Fr. Azzarto asked what I was selling, so I explained that it was a "50/50 Cash Raffle" and the winner would receive half of the total cash collected. He responded to me by saying, "Oh, so you mean it's really a 60/40 raffle?" and then he winked! I became a little flustered and was taken aback for just a moment. But knowing that I was speaking to the most respected and most loved man on campus, and knowing how much integrity he held, I knew he was just joking!

But, as a result, I have been forever nicknamed "60/40" by Fr. Azzarto, and I wear this annointed identity with only pure pride! I sign all of my correspondence to him as "60/40." My name is never, ever required!

— Gemma Villani-Wright, P'10, '15
Prep Cheerleader 1970-73

He always comes to Prep Soccer Camp to say Mass, and he's always there for the end of the season dinner.

— Jacob Brozon, '19

Fr. Azzarto was always active in the Emmaus retreats and because of that, he knew everyone. You could always find him greeting students by name on campus.

— Lloyd Ang '89, P'22

LEFT: Even as the guest of honor, Fr. Azzarto couldn't resist taking his usual pictures to share with friends in attendance.

From Imagination to Reality

The lobby of Mulry Hall, like the rest of the 105-year-old building's interior, was totally transformed, heralding the successful completion of the 12-year Imagine Campaign.

With gifts totaling $56.6 million, Prep closes the books on its most successful capital campaign.

There was a wonderful sense of déjà vu on the evening of September 20th, as some 230 special guests gathered on the Prep campus for the annual President's Reception.

Of course, this event has been a mainstay on the school's calendar for decades, providing the opportunity to thank the many donors who made the previous fiscal year's fundraising efforts a success.

But this particular evening's broader context was striking. For the third time in three years, the event marked the successful completion of a multi-million dollar capital project that was executed over the previous few months. The center of attention this time around was the beautifully renovated Mulry Hall, which followed last year's deep renovation of the adjacent Hogan Hall, and the construction of the Perkins Athletic Center in 2016.

Ironically, to a current Prep senior, it would be tempting to view this as de rigueur, including the expectation that each new school year would begin with a fabulous and highly visible major upgrade to Prep's physical plant. But to alumni and friends of a certain age, this three-year construction boom has been head-spinning, in the very best sense of that phrase. And that fact is underscored further when you factor in the 2012 opening of the transformational Moriarty Science Center, just six years earlier.

Phil McGovern, '76, P'11, the chair of Prep's Board of Trustees, spoke during the President's Reception. The evening celebrated both the Mulry renovations, and the generosity that enabled wide-ranging campus renewal as well as tremendous growth in Prep's scholarship and tuition support offerings.

In both prepared remarks and casual conversations during the evening, the focus was on the successful conclusion of Imagine: The Fund for Saint Peter's Prep. This two-phase capital campaign, conducted over the previous 12 years, officially closed its books that night with gifts totaling $56.6 million, funding not only the capital projects mentioned above, but also providing major support of Prep's resources for merit- and need-based scholarships.

Phase One of the Imagine Campaign (October 2006 – April 2012) was highlighted by the transformation of Burke Hall into the Moriarty Science Center, as well as the launching of the Sheehan Scholarship Program, with gifts totaling $19.7 million. Phase Two's highlights (May 2012 – September 2018) were the Perkins, Hogan and Mulry projects, as well as major support of the Sheehan program, with gifts totaling just under $36.9 million.

In addition to the construction projects and the Sheehan Scholarship Program, both phases of the campaign contributed a combined total of some $13 million in support of merit- and need-based scholarships, including just over $10 million in gifts to Prep's permanent endowment.

In his remarks, Prep's vice president for planning & principal giving, Jim Horan, '70, noted that the success of this 12-year fundraising effort rests on the shoulders of its two lead donors: Mrs. Mary Eileen Moriarty, wife of the late Don, '48, who provided over $6 million in foundational gifts that enabled each phase's capital projects to move forward; and Don's Prep classmate, Mr. Jerry Sheehan, who fully funded the Sheehan Scholarship Program with gifts in excess of $15 million.

During this past summer, All three floors of Mulry Hall were completely gutted in the course of a remarkably rapid work schedule, executed under the watch of general contractor Peter Gargiulo, '77. Pictured is the second floor just after Memorial Day, with all interior walls already demolished to make way for the new Sheehan Guidance & Counseling Center

The President's Reception was Prep's opportunity to showcase not only the renovated Mulry Hall, but the outstanding generosity that had sustained the Imagine Campaign over its 12 years. These facts and figures were on proud display, and certainly bear repeating here!

Prep president Fr. Ken Boller, S.J., and VP for planning & principal giving Jim Horan, '70 presented commemorative awards in gratitude to some of the Imagine Campaign's major donors. Accepting at the President's Reception were (left) Bob Moriarty, on behalf of the Moriarty Family, and (right) Victoria and Dr. John Madaras, on behalf of the estate of Victoria's late cousin, Stephen Hendzak, '62.

He also made reference to the campaign's founding gift — an unexpected $600,000 bequest from the Estate of Fr. Maurice O'Keefe, '49 in October of 2006 — and the institutional support that the new campaign received at that time from then Prep president Bob Reiser, S.J., as well as the ongoing guidance that current president Ken Boller, S.J., has provided on many levels since his arrival at Prep in the summer of 2013. In his own remarks, Fr. Boller briefly reviewed a number of dramatic changes that have taken place throughout the school over the past 12 years, parallel to the physical plant improvements themselves. Significantly, he noted that during the life of the Imagine Fund, Prep's other fundraising efforts brought in an additional $30 million in support of the school's ongoing operations. Thus, total fundraising during this period totaled some $86 million.

After acknowledging the team of internal and external advisers that provided invaluable logistical support during construction — especially board chairman Phil McGovern, '76, P'11, Tom Leane, '65, P'04, Jack Caulfield, '71, Tom McGinty, '71 and Paul Schaetzle, '71 — Horan emphasized the significance of the fact that not a penny of tuition money was used to fund any of the campaign's myriad projects, adding, "This in itself is a cause for celebration."

To Whom Much is Given: The Kellner Family

If he did not attend Saint Peter's Prep, "I believe that everything in my life would be different," Jeff Kellner, '85, P'13,'15,'19, commented after careful reflection on his high school experience. "It's the Jesuit education at Grand and Warren that makes Prep so special." Those years at Prep impacted Jeff's life so much that he wanted to share it with his wife, Michele, and their three sons, James, '13, Stephen, '15, and Thomas, '19.

The young men at 22, 20 and 17, respectively, seemed to have already placed a similar value on their education. "Prep has given me a community that I can always come back to," James, now a Wesleyan University graduate working in New York for Major League Baseball. "It has also given me the drive to be a man for others and to keep learning as much as I can in everything I do."

Stephen, now a senior at Oberlin College, appreciates the friendships he has made with his Prep brothers and Saint Ignatius' Prayer for Generosity has not been lost on him. "Prep has taught me to give and not to count the cost, and for that I will always give back."

You would think that waking up at 5:30 each morning to take the 6:30 a.m. train from Montclair would get tiresome after three years, but not for Thomas, '19. "I wake up excited for the school day each morning. There is a different feeling at this school than any other I have attended and I am grateful for the experience."

As a frequent volunteer at Prep since James' early days in 2009, Michele's vibrant spirit has certainly left its mark on Prep and will certainly be missed when Thomas graduates in June. (We hope she stays active as a past parent!) Michele's behind the scenes support runs the gamut from stuffing Annual Fund envelopes to chairing the Grand Gala. "I am so grateful that I can give back and help volunteer at the various events, I feel like it will never be enough compared to what Prep has given us.

With Jeff's new appointment to Saint Peter's Board of Trustees, time is not the only asset that the Verona couple gives to Prep. Their generous financial support of the Annual Fund, the Fashion Show and the Grand Gala has been steadfast. And it's the Gala, where proceeds go toward Prep's financial assistance program, which garners their largest support. Jeff was a recipient of same assistance back in the 1980s. "That's really why I give back, as a 'thank you' for the aid I received."

Jeff and Michele are proud that James, Stephen, and Thomas sons already understand the importance of "paying it forward." As Michele says, "My boys (all four of them!) have Prep in their hearts and are guided everyday by the values instilled in them and I'm thankful that we will always be a part of it."

5 QUESTIONS

WITH WILL REESE AND ASHLEY HOFFMAN, PREP LIBRARIANS

It might be tempting to assume high school-age boys wouldn't list their school library as one of their favorite places, or that the prevalence of online research would reduce the role of the library in Prep's academic life. But thanks in no small part to Prep's energetic and dedicated librarians, those assumptions can safely be catalogued under "fiction."

Prep Magazine: The uninitiated might expect online resources have reduced the role a school library plays, yet the Prep library is as busy as ever. Where do you see it fitting into school life?

Will Reese: Prep has vastly increased the number of research projects offered in the last few years. We have curated the collection, both print and online, to support this change. Interestingly, as we've increased the number of databases and online subscriptions we have, our overall circulation has skyrocketed with it.

As the boys spend more time online, the amount of information, both accurate and false, they are exposed to increases. Because of this, our main focus is to develop each student's digital literacy. We do this by focusing on how to perform a search and by helping them develop fact-checking skills.

PM The library holds a number of special collections. What's your favorite one, and why?

Ashley Hoffman: My favorite collection is actually new nonfiction. You probably think I'm incredibly dull, but please hear me out! That section has our most radical books where we can showcase the crazy truth. I naturally gravitate more towards true stories, usually biographies and diaries, but this collection has everything from famous female serial killers, to the history of hip hop, to immigration journeys

WR As many would tell you, my favorite is the comics and graphic novel collection. Comics got me into reading and ultimately lead me to where I am today. We've been able to engage so many new readers because of this collection, due to their accessibility and emphasis on visual learning. A common misconception is that comic books are at a low reading level and tackle only superficial issues. In the Siperstein Library, we have used comics to explore social issues and have incorporated works that are taught in university settings.

PM For many years, Jack Campion's infamous "Hamlet Paper" for English 3 was probably the biggest single driver of library traffic. What's the busiest season these days?

AH We really don't have a busy season anymore. At any given time, multiple research projects are occurring and with the new English initiative to incorporate free reading time in each cycle, we have been able to work with multiple students for both research and leisure. Actually I take that back; Community period is our busy season and it happens every day. Maybe we should start taking reservations!

PM We all know teenage boys can be "enthusiastic," and yet the library is consistently a relaxed environment, conducive to studying and quiet pastimes. Is there a secret to maintaining that calm?

AH Will is hysterically laughing, so I'll answer this one. First of all, great question. It is dependent on various factors, for example, if there are several projects that were just due, we are a little bit more lenient in terms of crowd control because we recognize that the students have been working really hard and might need a little break. If we know that there are several projects about to be due, we are a little more strict in keeping a quiet setting because we want them to have a space where they can really focus on their work and be productive. For daily upkeep, we try and keep the volume low and the excitement down by keeping an eye on what students are working on. This starts with us. By that, I mean that we try to lead by example by keeping ourselves on task. If students are feeling a little too "enthusiastic", we sometimes decide to ask them to leave in order to keep the atmosphere productive instead of distracting. Mr. Reese has only kicked me out twice for getting off task. I only deserved it once.

PM If someone visited the Prep library today who hasn't done so in a number of years, what do you think would surprise them most?

WR Younger alumni are generally most surprised to see the 30+ computers that used to take up one side of the library gone, due to the one-to-one Chromebook program. Taking out the computers and desks really opened the space up for more collaboration and varied seating options, such as the high top tables. Visitors are also surprised by the sheer number of students using the library at any given time. During Community Period, for example, there tend to be between 150 and 200 students in here. As a point of pride, everyone who walks in is immediately drawn to the rotating, seasonal displays we put up, and the interactive news board prominently placed near the entrance.

Dear Brothers and Sisters of the Prep Community:

The most basic and fundamental stance of a Christian is gratitude, gratitude for all of God's grace and blessings in our life. This attitude of gratefulness is never more present in the cycle of our school life than now as we begin the new year and present you with our annual report.

At the end of August we welcomed the Class of 2022 and taught them the word "sesquicentennial." Indeed, our freshmen serve as a marker for the 150th anniversary of the founding of Saint Peter's Prep. With all of their youth, energy and enthusiasm they continue a tradition of a century and a half of service to the young men of Hudson County and the surrounding area, forming men of conscience, competence, compassion and commitment. In a world divided and scandalized and filled with disinformation, we strive to instill a knowledge of God's love for all and a critical mind capable of sorting through the deluge of information bombarding us. The presence of the gentlemen of the class of '22 reminds us of the trust their parents have in us, that we will remain true to our tradition.

Our gratitude extends to you, the members of the Prep family who continue, through your support, to make the dream which is Prep a reality for these boys. This report recognizes the many people whose generosity helps us help those families for whom a Prep education would otherwise be out of reach. Thank you so much.

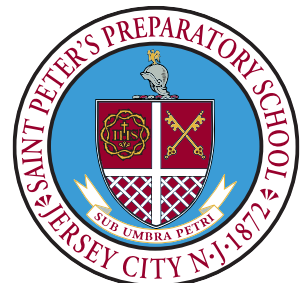

Elsewhere in this issue, we also chronicle two milestones of unselfish and outstanding generosity: the formal end of years of service by Fr. Tony Azzarto, S.J., and the successful completion of Phase Two of the Imagine Campaign.

The celebration of Fr. Azzarto's eightieth birthday saw an outpouring of several hundred members of the community whose lives have been touched by his selfless ministry to our Prep family. Counselling, teaching, directing retreats, baptizing, officiating at weddings, visiting the sick, burying the dead, or simply taking your picture, Fr. A reached out and made a difference for countless generations of Prepsters and their extended families. It was the quintessential Azzarto moment: all were welcome to share the simple fare and one another's company. Ad multos annos Fr. Azzarto!

On September 20, we dedicated the newly renovated Mulry Hall and celebrated the completion of the Imagine Campaign. Begun twelve years ago and intended to be a two-phase effort, Imagine has been transformative for Prep. With the courageous and creative inspiration of Bob Reiser, S.J., the tireless efforts of Jim Horan, '70 and the extraordinary generosity of our benefactors, $56.6 million was raised overall – including nearly $37 million in Phase Two – to create the Moriarty Science Center and the O'Keefe Commons, to renovate and modernize Hogan and Mulry Halls, and to build the Perkins Athletic Center, all while adding $10 million to our endowments and supporting more than 130 students in the Sheehan Scholars Program. The story of our celebration is a token of the tremendous gratitude we feel for this transformational generosity.

The last 25 years have seen our neighborhood shift from simply "downtown Jersey City" to the fashionable and historic Paulus Hook. Through your sustaining and extraordinary generosity we too have flourished and blossomed to better serve the young men entrusted to our care. As we look forward to celebrating our 150th birthday, we stand on solid footing thanks to you. May God continue to bless Saint Peter's Prep.

The Donn  Society

The Donn  Society of Saint Peter's Preparatory School has been established to recognize men and women who have embraced the Jesuit mission of educating young "men for others" in a very special way. Specifically, the Donn  Society honors those who have contributed $100,000 or more to the school throughout their lifetime. This special recognition is a lasting tribute to their profound generosity.

The Heritage Society

Throughout its 146-year history, the financial stability of Saint Peter's Prep has been ensured by the consistent and unwavering support of its many benefactors. In addition to the direct support of the Prep Fund, the Imagine Fund, and special initiatives, this generosity has included bequests and other planned gifts from the school's supporters.

In recent years, a number of individuals have indicated that they have provided for Prep in their estate plans, thus becoming members of the Heritage Society.

PLEASE NOTE:

We make every effort to ensure the proper listing of donors in the President's Report. However, in reports of this size and scope, mistakes sometimes occur.

If your name has been omitted or improperly listed, please accept our apologies, and email any corrections to advancement@spprep.org.

This report covers gifts received from July 1, 2017 to June 30, 2018.

Past Parents

Parents who had a son at Prep during the 2017-18 academic year are listed in the Honor Roll listing and in the Current Parents section. If the father is an alumnus, the gift is listed in the Honor Roll listing and in his alumni class listing.

The Dolan Society

This society is named for Charles F.X. Dolan, S.J., '32, a Prep Legend and a longtime fixture in the Prep community. It honors the wives of deceased alumni who, through their generosity, have continued to make Saint Peter's Prep an important part of their lives.

THE FUND FOR
SAINT PETER'S PREP

We gratefully acknowledge the generous supporters of Phase Two of Imagine: The Fund for Saint Peter's Prep. This special campaign funded the construction of the Perkins Athletic Center, the extensive renovations to Mulry and Hogan halls, and the significant growth of Prep's resources for scholarships.

Outdoor Track

Under the direction of Coach Chris Caulfield, '03, the track program continued its string of impressive results. The team took the championship at the Jesuit Meet (2nd year in a row), the Hudson County Meet (3rd year in a row) and the Jersey City Meet (10th year in a row).

The 4 x 100 meter relay of Philip Okoh, Richie Luzzi-Liggins, Cameron Blair and Markus Bagley broke the school record at the NJSIAA Meet of Champions, with a time of 42.00 earning a 2nd place finish.

ABOVE: Richie Luzzi-Liggins came in 2nd place at the NJSIAA Group Championships in the 200 meter dash running 21.77. He also earned a medal in the same event at both the Meet of Champions and the New Balance Nationals Emerging Elite Division.

RIGHT: Adonis McGee became just the fifth Prep athlete to win an Individual State Championship with a high jump leap of 6'4".

Crew

The Varsity Pair (David Chase Lerner and Durkin McCarthy) won the Philadelphia City Championship and then traveled to Sacramento, CA in June for the Youth Nationals. Lerner and McCarthy finished 12th in the country. Six of the team's seniors will continue rowing in college: Lerner (Syracuse), McCarthy (University of Delaware), Gregory Nacheff (Holy Cross), Dante Malleo (Scranton), Jack Halligan (Colgate) and Dante Dias (Lehigh).

Chase Lerner and Durkin McCarthy pose with Coach Alex Canale, '05 as they hoist the championship trophy in Philadelphia.

Christian Cunningham had an outstanding season, culminating in his HCIAL Third Singles Championship

Tennis

Tennis ended its 2018 season with a run to the semi-finals in both the HCIAL and State Team Tournaments. The Marauders finished with a record of 12-6, significant because the team's 6th win of the season marked a milestone for Coach John "Padre" Fencik, '70, P '98. Now in his 19th season, it was Coach Fencik's 250th career win. His record now stands at 256-64.

Baseball

With a win over Bayonne in the HCIAL Championship, the baseball team finished undefeated against league opponents. It also marked Prep's fourth county championship in the last seven years. The highlight of the regular season was a trip to Los Angeles where the team went 2-1.

Their 23-5 final record placed Prep at #8 in the final state rankings.

Senior Jack Carey was selected to the First Team All-State. He was also named HCIAL Player of the Year. Jack will continue playing baseball at Duke.

Golf

Volleyball

The Marauders advanced once again to the HCIAL Championship match and also played their way into the State Sectional Semi-Finals. In route to a final record of 14-10, the team took 2nd Place at both the Bloomfield and Livingston Tournaments. Mason Matos was a First-Team All HCIAL selection and was named the league's Setter of the Year.

Outside hitter, Senior Paolo Samin was an All-State and First-Team All HCIAL selection

Rugby

Rugby finished its league play 1-3, with the win coming against Hudson Catholic. The team also competed — once again -- in the Jesuit Tournament hosted by Fairfield Prep. Even though it was a loss, the high point of the season was a home match against Xavier College from Melbourne Australia. Spring 2019 will mark the 15th year for Prep Rugby, and the coaching staff will be reaching out to former players to celebrate the anniversary.

Lacrosse

The lacrosse team enjoyed a very successful season with wins over Madison, Wall, and Rumson-Fair Haven. Their final record of 13-6 overall and 5-1 in their division earned them a co-championship in the Waterman Division. The Marauders also advanced — for the fourth straight year — to the State Tournament quarterfinals.

Senior captain Ryan Kirkwood finished his career as one of the best players in Prep history. In addition to being a three-time All-Conference and two-time All-State selection, he was selected as Player of the Year in the Waterman Division

The name Tony Azzarto, S.J. will never be forgotten at Grand & Warren, as his legacy of tireless dedication to the Prep community has given us so much to celebrate over the decades. Yet because of Fr. Azzarto's well-known distaste for too much attention, the opportunities to celebrate him on a large scale have been rather infrequent.

This fall's 80th Birthday BBQ has been one exception, but another came in the summer of 2005 (pictured above and right), as Fr. Azzarto prepared for his second of two missionary trips to Nigeria. Hundreds of well-wishers descended upon Grand & Warren for Mass and a picnic lunch in the courtyard, patiently waiting their turn to share a moment with their favorite Jesuit before his departure.

Fr. Azzarto returned to Prep in the fall of 2007, and remained until his reassignment this summer. ✕

As seen in the Fall 2006 Prep Magazine, Fr. Azzarto's 2005-07 stint in Nigeria included a visit from his longtime Prep colleague Jim DeAngelo, '85. At the time, Prep's now-principal was completing a two-year assignment of his own away from Grand & Warren, serving as Special Assistant for Secondary Education for the Jesuits' New York Province.

Mack-Cali Tournament Offers Heated Competition

With temperatures and humidity figures both hovering in the 90s, there was just one word for the weather on Golf Tournament Monday: hot. But with a record-breaking field of 228 golfers on hand, the competition matched the conditions!

With the tournament's new venue, Galloping Hill Golf Course in Kenilworth, offering both a new challenge and the lowest entry fee in recent memory, golfers from throughout the Prep community couldn't resist the opportunity to enjoy a round with their favorite foursome, while helping to support Prep's mission along the way. "Even before last year's tournament [at Upper Montclair Country Club], we were already making plans to ensure the 2018 event was a great experience for our golfers," said Mike Murcia, '08, Prep's director of alumni relations. "We wanted to make the tournament more accessible so more alumni and parents could join in, and they absolutely responded."

Players and sponsors alike responded so strongly, in fact, that despite the lower prices, the tournament raised more than $120,000 – an increase of nearly 50% over 2017!

Given the large turnout and the high temperatures, the course management recommended a change to a scramble format in order to speed up the pace of play. Although this made it difficult to compare the tournament results with previous years, the change was well-received by the players, who still had ample opportunity to enjoy the challenging course along with their favorite foursomes.

Following a tiebreaker, the threesome of Tom Canty, '51, Bob Goger, '59, and Tom Goger, '62 emerged victorious with a score of 58 (-13). How close was the competition? The top eight teams in the final standings were separated by just two strokes!

Marking a Milestone

More than 200 alumni from nine Prep classes came home to Grand & Warren this past April, marking five-year milestones in the Prep alumni brotherhood. Mass, cocktails, and the silver diploma presentation for the 25th Reunion class were all staples of the Milestone Reunion format, but a new addition was a festive beefsteak dinner. The new menu seemed to suit the occasion perfectly, as classmates passed around trays of roast beef and waffle fries while they exchanged stories and memories from their days at Prep (some of which might even have been true)!

The Classes of '58 and '68 will celebrate their 60th and 50th reunions, respectively, in October.

55 Years: Class of 1963

45 Years: Class of 1973

40 Years: Class of 1978

35 Years: Class of 1983

30 Years: Class of 1988

25 Years: Class of 1993

20 Years: Class of 1998

Alumni Build New Summer Traditions

Prep's summer break was extended this year, in order to accommodate construction on campus. Bookending the break were two alumni gatherings that are quickly becoming staples of the Prep calendar: the Manhattan Happy Hour in May, and Marauders Down the Shore at Lake Como's Bar A in August.

The Manhattan event, which took place this year at Stout on West 33rd Street, featured a large contingent of current and recently-retired Prep teachers, while the Bar A event once again featured an outdoor barbecue buffet, perfect for a late summer afternoon.

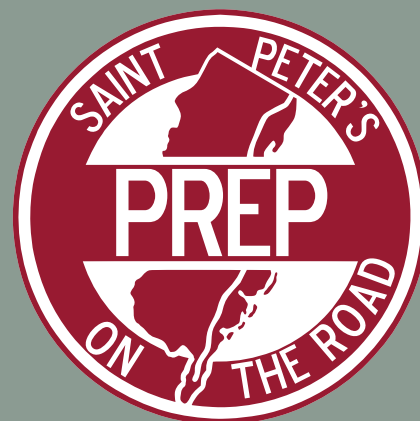

If you missed these get-togethers, don't worry...another year of alumni happy hours and regional reunions lies ahead, with stops in Hoboken, Manhattan, Boston, Philadelphia, Florida, and Washington, D.C. scheduled thus far (and more to be announced). That means there's a good chance Prep is headed your way soon! ✕

Prep on the Road Rolls On

Although Tony Azzarto, S.J. is no longer a daily presence at Grand & Warren, he plans to continue to be a part of the Prep community through various channels, such as his work with the Alumni Spirituality Committee – including the ongoing Prep on the Road Mass series. Save the dates and plan to join Fr. Azzarto and your fellow alumni at one of these upcoming events:

Oct. 13	Maywood	Mar. 23	Verona
Oct. 20	South Orange	Apr. 6	Glen Ridge
Nov. 10	Mountainside	May 4	Summit
Dec. 8	Westfield	June 22	Sea Girt
Feb. 16	Verona

Each event takes place in the home of a Prep family, and begins with Mass at 5 p.m., followed by an opportunity to get to know the Prep community in your local community.

The '50s

Ray Aumack, '55 has published a collection of poetry, Face into the Wind. The book is available through Amazon and Barnes and Noble. He is a regular writer for Duchas Magazine, a publication of the Irish American Cultural Institute - USA. Ray chairs the class of '55, which has met for monthly lunches for about 30 years. Ray remarked, "We're the happiest and arguably the largest group of octogenarians to meet monthly in some of the finest country clubs in the state, and at the Light Horse Tavern."

Hank Quense, '56 continues to be a prolific science-fiction writer. His latest adventure is a seven-ebook series, The Zaffan Troubles. Filled with political and military satire, the story involves an alien mining expedition that discovers a planet filled with exotic minerals. Unfortunately, the planet is inhabited by humans, dwarfs, elves and other fantasy creatures. What can possibly go wrong with a few simple mining operations?

George Blaney, '57 was honored this spring, as the College of the Holy Cross celebrated the longtime basketball coach by naming the basketball facility within their new athletic complex in his honor. Participating in the dedication ceremony were Prep classmates Kevin Collins, '57 and Jack Verdon, '57

Walter Baile, '62 has "finally" joined the ranks of his retired classmates. He spent 40 years in academic psychiatry, most recently as Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center. That's the good news.

Anthony Keating, '78: Man About (George)town

In his 13 years as a Prep history teacher, Anthony Keating, '78 has been hard to miss: wherever you turn at Grand & Warren, there he is with a hearty handshake and a warm smile. As he visited Georgetown University to celebrate the graduation of his daughter, two of his former students found him to be just as ubiquitous in DC as he is in JC. Matt Jasko, '14 (top photo) spotted him at Washington Union Station during the Georgetown Ball, while Dave Finn, '07 had his own Keating moment at Georgetown's commencement.

The bad news? "My wife will now be forced to listen to my bad clarinet playing."

John Engel, '67 sends his regrets for missing the 50th reunion; he splits his time between Florida and France, and was in France at the time. He sends best wishes to his classmates and hopes to make the 60th!

Bob Barkovitz, '69 retired in June after 46 years of teaching physics. He spent the first three of those years at St. Aloysius on West Side Avenue in Jersey City, followed by nine at Secaucus High School, and the past 34 at Millburn High School.

Mike Holy, '69 finally met a hurricane to which he did not respond; he remained safe and dry at home in Baltimore during Florence. Mike has previously employed his nursing and crisis skills in Katrina in 2005, and in North Carolina twice in 2016 post Hurricane Matthew. Last year, he was in Texas for Hurricane Harvey, home four days, then deployed for three weeks to Puerto Rico after Maria. Mike advises us to "stay tuned," as the hurricane season is still not over!

The '70s

Jim Croghan, S.J., '73 is now the superior of the Jesuit community at Boston College High School, where he reports experiencing "lots of pressure to become a Red Sox fan."

Tony Marsh, '73 was awarded a Post-Graduate Diploma from the University of Oxford, Kellogg College, having successfully completed the program "MSc In Evidence-Based Health Care" last December. Tony expressed his thanks to all his Jesuit and lay teachers at Prep, "who instilled the spirit of a love for learning no matter how old one gets."

In June, some 200 friends of former Prep president Joe Parkes, S.J., '62 gathered at a dinner in his honor to celebrate his retirement as the founding president of Cristo Rey New York. The attendees at the event, held at the Museum of the City of New York, included a contingent with strong Prep connections. Pictured with Fr. Parkes (fifth from right) are (l. to r.) Walt Modrys, S.J., '62; former Prep principal Jack Raslowsky, '79; Joe Sack, '62; Bob Dempsey, '62; Tim Hawkes, '65; Prep vice president Jim Horan, '70; and Gene Boyle, '62.

Ed Garland, '75 of Miami's TERRA Environmental Research Institute was named High School Bowling Coach of the Year by the Miami Herald. This is his 5th award to date in bowling and basketball.

Joe Ryan, '76 has completed his first play, The Beggar's Will, a courtroom dramedy set in Jersey City in the 1880s. The story is adapted from two real trials concerning the last will and testament of an Irish beggar woman. She took the alms for the poor that people gave her and invested them in real estate. She begged for money successfully from Abraham Lincoln and countless others. Her surviving daughters each filed suit against the will after they were cut out of it. Joe hopes to have the show produced.

The '80s

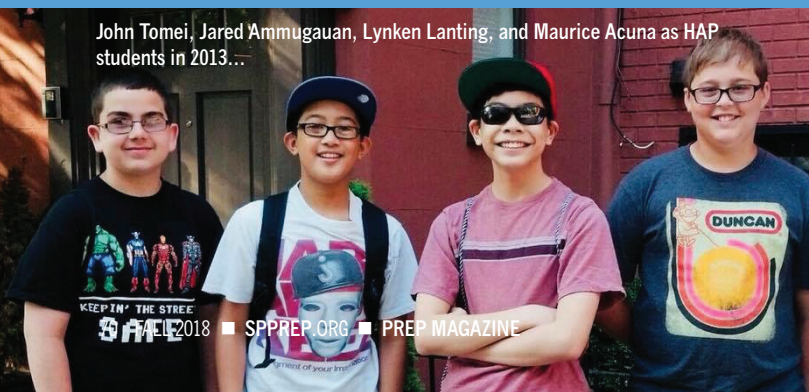

Greg Fagan, '81 married Doreen Rush (St. Dominic Academy, 1986) on July 20, 2018 in a beach ceremony in Los Cabos, Mexico. Classmates Chris Lally and Drew Mooney attended the celebration. The couple is living in St. Louis, Missouri.

Chris Krzak, '82 has been appointed Assistant Vice President/Executive Director of Admission at the University of the Pacific in California.

Kevin Fitzhenry, '86 retired as a captain from the Bayonne Fire Department after 25 years.

When 2018 graduates John Tomei, Jared Ammugauan, Lynken Lanting, and Maurice Acuna received their Prep diplomas last spring, it was not the first graduation this quartet shared. The four Jersey City natives have been friends since kindergarten, and also attended HAP together in the summer of 2013. This fall, John pursues a law enforcement career while the other three attend NJIT, but this lifelong friendship, strengthened at Grand & Warren, looks sure to endure no matter where life's roads lead these four classmates!

John Tomei, Jared Ammugauan, Lynken Lanting, and Maurice Acuna as HAP students in 2013...

Grant Cevasco is a bit early for orientation, but the son of Jenna and Marc Cevasco, '00 has come to the right place. Now to wait for the rest of the Class of 2031 to show up...

The '90s

Andrew Bondarowicz, '92 was appointed to the Township Council in Scotch Plains, New Jersey, in July. This November, he is on the ballot for a full term.

The '00s

Pat Mellea, '04 was inducted to the Hudson County Track Hall of Fame in June.

Pat Mellea, '04 at the Hudson County Track Hall of Fame ceremony, with former teammate (and current Prep Track coach) Chris Caulfield, '03 and former coach Mike Burgess.

Joseph Hannon, '05 earned his Ph.D. in physical therapy from Texas Woman's University in Dallas, Texas. Joseph, his wife, Jackie and their son, Connor reside in Fort Worth.

Anthony Machcinski, '07 began work as content developer for Our York Media, a marketing company in York, Pennsylvania, in September.

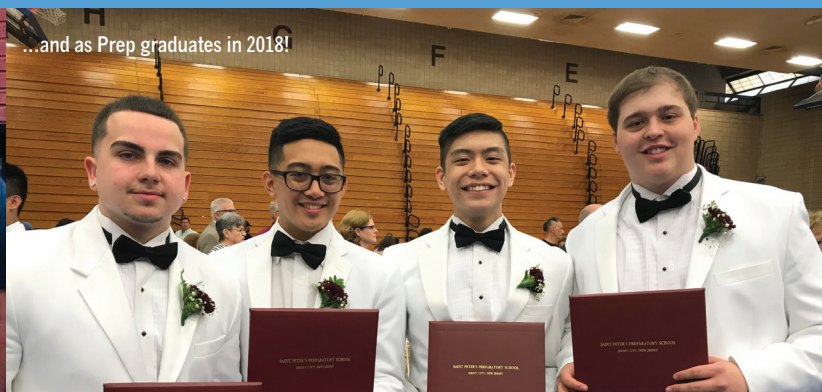

Bill Grapstul, '08 has accepted a position as an Assistant Prosecutor here at home in Hudson County.

The '10s

Sean Ryan, '14 delivered the student address at Randolph-Macon College's commencement in June. He is now working as Press Assistant to Congressman Earl Blumenauer (D-Oregon 03).

...and as Prep graduates in 2018!

BEST WISHES TO THE CLASS OF 2018!

This spring, Prep bid farewell to the 233 seniors of the Class of 2018, while welcoming them into the community of Prep alumni. As they have taken on new challenges, building upon the academic, spiritual, social and athletic foundations they formed during their four years at Grand & Warren, Prep is proud to salute the Class of 2018. This fall, we invite you to join us in wishing them the very best at these and other colleges and universities, throughout the United States and beyond:
